Where are you dancing next weekend?

If you love Irish set dancing, then Set Dancing News is the magazine for you! Wherever you dance, in Ireland, America, Britain or Europe, there's never been a bigger choice of events and Set Dancing News helps you decide where to go. Every issue has pages of information about ceilis and workshops with your favourite bands and teachers so you'll know where to go dancing every weekend. You can use Set Dancing News to find events close to home and to help plan holidays and weekends away months in advance.

In addition to the listings of upcoming dances, Set Dancing News is full of good reading, with articles about recent events written by set dancers, interviews with well-known personalities, instructions for the latest sets, the story of a ceili band in each issue, recent news, historical items, fiction, letters, and more. Best of all, there are plenty of photographs, and you're sure to spot someone you know

Set Dancing News is delivered every two months by air mail from Ireland to keep you fully informed. Each issue has at least 48 pages crammed with news, information and photos. The cost for a full year of six issues is €30 to Ireland, £25 to Northern Ireland and Britain, €35 to Europe, us$55 to the USA, CAN$55 to Canada and AUS$60 to Australia. Payment can be made by cash, personal cheque, bank draft or UK or Irish post office cheque made payable to Bill Lynch. Please contact Bill regarding other currencies, destinations and payment methods.

Set Dancing News is dedicated to the interests of set dancers and set dancing. It's produced by an enthusiastic set dancer, Bill Lynch, who also maintains an Internet web site, www.SetDancingNews.net. If you have any questions, please contact Bill by mail, phone or email—see above.
